RATE WAR IS OFF

Oregon's Minerel Exhibit at Buffalo Is the Best--Volunteers Will Return From Manila.

BAKER CITY, May 27. - Cattlemen along the John Day River are perfecting organizations for protecting themselves against thieves. During the past year an organization was maintained in the Upper John Day and Burnt River districts, and now it is proposed to organize down about the middle of the stream, to co-operate with stockmen further up. Much loss has been sustained by cattlemen having stock on the range, and it is believed that systematic gangs have operated. By driving stock that much stock has been taken from the country without attracting attention until the owner missed his animals.
